"A Record of Deaths
Collected and Kept by Mary Hazard
1875"

Pittsfield, Mass. May 17-1898 Rollin H. Cooke (1607 names) and other Spirits.

1st. Order March 2nd 1861

While I was uniting in singing with my brethren & sisters I felt an uncommon weight of solemnity in the worship but had not the least tho't of what I afterwards witnessed, which was as follows:

I suddenly found myself in the midst of a company of spirits, traveling together, & I walked on with them. They were these sisters: Tipparah Cory, Salome Chauncy, Philadelphia Wood, Lucinda Cole & Mary Reed. We went to a piece of ground, with large woods upon each side and a handsome stream of water running thro the midst of them. There were brethren in the woods, felling trees, & some were clearing the land; I did not know who they were for the sisters passed by them, but after we went a little farther, we met Father James, and he said, there is going to be a society of believers set up here, & that is why we are clearing up the land, we expect to build houses & make ready--I looked around to see if I could tell where I was, but I could not, & as no one saw fit to inform me, I did not know which world I was in.--We went on again & Father James went with us. They led me into a beautiful place, where was a pool, or large cistern of water, I looked into it, & it seemed to be lined with gold. Over this cistern was a shaft of light, or brightness, perfectly clear, & Angels flying up & down in it. Over against this was a platform erected, upon the top of which was a pair of scales, two flights of stairs led up to the top of this.--The sisters asked me If I would like to be weighed. I told them nay: why not? said they. I had no time to make excuses, for Father stepped forward, & said "you must be weighed," "And" said he, "I will tell you what these scales or balances are for: they are to prove how much good you have gained by your privilege; & every soul will have this examination to come to." In one side, said he, is all the good you have ever received; all the gifts, notices, & presents that have been given you from time to time, from the spiritual world, in whatever manner you have received them, small & great. All the precious counsel & good you have received from your Elders, brethren & sisters, in acts of kindness in any way, & all that has been consecrated & given up for your benefit, & support, in all things both spiritual & temporal, is all there.

Now I want you to go up with me & be weighed, & see if you you have good enough in store, to make an equal balance." I told Father, I knew I had not, & I should be as light as a feather, when compared with all the good I had received. The sisters present, all very kindly offered me something to take with me, such like as precious stones, a box of diamonds with large pieces of gold &c, which I very thankfully received, thinking they would help fetch down my side of the scales. I went with Father & stepped on to the balance & it was just as I expected. I was found wanting. But I had one thing for my comfort, the opposite side raised a little from the platform; & another thing which was not for my comfort; that which the sisters gave me appeared to weigh nothing, for it seemed to vanish, & be taken from me, which signified to me that nothing was my own but what I had gained by my own exertions. The sisters told me not to feel bad, for many had been weigh'd there that were found more lacking than I was, & I had not yet left the Earth, but would have more time still to gain a substance of the gospel which would be my own. Father then took me by the hand & told me he would explain to me the meaning of what I had seen. Said he, these are the scales of justice. They appeared to you as natural scales, but they are not: it is shown to you in this way, to bring it to your understanding; so are all things of this world shown to you, & they will remain so to you even after you have left the Earth, until you meet the final change. What, said I, does Father mean by the final change? F.--I mean, child, when you are born of the spirit unto God, & all your desires after natural & earthly things are destroyed from your soul; & then will be the time that you will be found with that substance of good which will counter-balance all that you have received from us & elsewhere. Every soul must pay the debt of gratitude they owe to God, thro' his chosen ones, by doing as much good to, & for others, as they have received. Instr.--I thought when souls left the body, if they had been faithful, they left all natural & earthly things behind them, & had no pleasure in anything but that which is spiritual. F.--It is true there is a great difference in souls, but all that any one has in time, more than what is really necessary for their present needs, serves as a clog to draw them back to the earth & those things that their interest is in these, their interest will be in the same things here, & they will follow the same occupations generally, & have what they desire most.

Instr. Some have a greater desire to lay up something against time of need with a feeling to help others, should they be in distress, is that not right? F.-- This is what we have always taught, & those who keep & improve this prudent spirit lay up a great treasure in heaven, which will be their own at the final day.

Such will be weighed in the balance & not found wanting. They pay the price as they go along while, those who serve for selfish purposes, squander more than they earn, & waste all their own substance as well as that of others, & they come into this world destitute & naked, dependant on the charity of others for support. Instr.--Now will Father be so kind as to tell me what change the soul will meet with, after every desire for earthly & natural things is done away, seeing things of this spirit world do so clearly represent those things which we leave, only they are a thousand times more beautiful & enticing, & more to be desired.

Father.--When a soul has traveled out of their loss from God entirely, they will feel that love to him, that all self promotion, or indulgences of a selfish nature, will feel in every sence disgusting to them.

Their whole labor, motives, & interest will be for the honor & glory of their Creator, & they will long to be rid of all outward encumbrances, that they may praise & worship him continually forever & ever. Instr.--

But can we not praise him now in all that we say & do if we feel right? Are there not those who do this while yet on earth? F.--There are those, it is true whose constant labor it is to do this, yet in this state there is no possibility of doing it wholly, for much or most of the time has to be devoted in the attainments of natural & earthly things, & no vessel can be more than full, & the nature of man is so selfish that it is difficult for the most upright to keep their sense on God all the time. But I will now answer your questions; You want to know how it is you meet the final change. Instr.--Yes I do. F.--Well, I have already told you that all the desires of a natural mind must be done away, they must be weigh'd in the balance of justice and found void of all offence, innocent & upright before God & man, having no love but the love of God in their souls; at peace with all men, void of all outward encumbrances or inward embarrassments of every name & nature, then they are prepar'd for what follows. They are now stripped of all earthly covering, naked and innocent before God & his witnesses; & their appearance is as clear as crystal, their countenances shine, for they have overcome the nature of sin in themselves. Here they stand in the midst of thousands of Angels & redeemed souls to receive what is for them. The book of their lives is now opened & read to them.

All their temptations, trials, crosses, sufferings & afflictions, are portrayed before them. There is nothing secret but what is made known, & nothing hidden but what is revealed concerning them; for they stand open in the light, willing to be seen & known of all men. When they have heard the book of their lives read, which has been kept by their guardian Angels, it is then given to them, and they read it again for confirmation of its truth & they keep the same if they desire to, which is generally the case. They are then led by the Angels or some two of these witnesses, down into this pool to wash, & they remain there as long as they desire; And when they come out of the pool, they receive a new white robe, the like whereof no natural eye hath ever seen, neither can it enter into the heart of man to know its beauty of its worth. They now receive a new name written upon a breastplate, of holiness unto the Lord forever. Likewise a crown of stars, exceeding beautiful. They also receive a diadem, sword, staff & shield. Now I suppose you are anxious to know what next. Instr. Yea. F. Well, look yonder, & what do you see? Instr. I see as it were a boundless Sea, which looks like glass. F. What do you think now? Instr. I do not know what to think. F. Well, I will tell you. Every soul has to pass this Sea before they can travel to perfect glory, or see the glory of God or their heavenly Parents. But no soul can do it till they are redeemed from the nature of the flesh. It is as you see a sea of glass, & no unclean soul can walk upon it. This is the final separation between the pure & impure. There is the place where the wicked cease from troubling; and it is beautiful, heavenly, & serene. No boisterous winds ever blow there. When souls pass this sea, they are out of all danger; And among those who are now travelling there, is your good Father & Elder Ebenezer who walked perfect before God on Earth & is travelling to full and perfect glory here in Eternity. But it is a far greater change for souls to meet with, to cross this Sea, or to pass from this spirit world or second sphere, to the Angelic world, or orb of eternal day, than it is to pass from the earth or natural world, to the spirit world, which the natural so clearly, represents, it being a type or shadow of the same. Instr. Well Father, is there any end to the travel of souls? Father. Nay, there is no end: They are ever increasing in beauty which is love, wisdom, light & truth forever & ever, there is no more standing still for them, than there is for the ever increasing planetary Orbs that move in eternal spheres thro' boundless space & existance. Instr.--Then if all our heavenly Parents have traveled so far beyond us, how is it that they so often draw nigh to administer to us & help us? F.--We come in disguise, for you in your natural state never could behold us as we really are, any more than you could look at the meridian sun at noon day & count its rays, with your naked eyes; & we are not permitted to come at all, only by the most earnest entreaties & humble supplication to our eternal & holy Parents for your sakes; for our love to our children and our earnest desire for their prosperity, welfare & increase in the purity of the gospel, makes us willing, to sacrifice all our own comfort & happiness for their good. Moreover, we send to you messengers in our name who are inspired with our word & spirit, & do communicate to you in and thro' that same power by which you receive it. This is often the case, & souls in the spirit world are equally inspired by powers above them, as much as you are by those next in order before you. There is no end to the increase of order in souls, as fast as they travel to one degree there is another offered them, & those who make the greatest sacrifices, travel the fastest, if they do it in reconciliation & obedience. There is more to stimulate souls to be faithful here, than there is in earthly state. For they can see easier what they may attain to, if they are faithful. And this is why I have bro't you here at this time, to show you these things, & if what I have said will do you or any other soul any good, I shall feel rewarded for my labors.--Father now gave me a little book & told me to write or draft from it what he had written therein, & then write a statement of what I had seen & heard at this time, for the benefit of all who should over hear the same.

This I have now done & I feel that I have a witness within me that it is correctly written, as Father spoke it. And this I now leave on the Altar of Wisdom here as I have been directed.
